
Open Research Data and Open Science

Francesca Di Donato

Francesca Di Donato, PhD in political philosophy, has been working since more than ten years on the application of new technologies to open science communication and dissemination. She works in Net7 (www.netseven.it), a SME based in Pisa, specialized in the development of open source tools for the Digital Humanities and Cultural Heritage.