Liz Allen

Dr Liz Allen is Director of Strategic Initiatives at F1000 and involved in shaping new initiatives and partnerships to promote and foster open research. Since 2015, Liz has been a Visiting Senior Research Fellow in the Policy Institute at King's College London, with a particular interest in science policy research, scholarly publishing infrastructure, impact assessment and the development of science-related indicators. Prior to joining F1000 in 2015, Liz spent over a decade leading the Evaluation Team at Wellcome.

Liz is also involved in all things 'research meta-data': she is a Board Director of Crossref; serves on the Advisory Board for the Software Sustainability Institute; is co-founded and is co-Chair of the CRediT (Contributor Roles Taxonomy) Project (<http://www.casrai.org/CRediT>); and until 2015 served as a Board Director of ORCID.
