

Elena Giglia

Elena Giglia, PhD, Masters' Degree in Librarianship and Masters' Degree in Public Institutions Management, is Head of the Open Science Unit at the University of Turin.

She was a member (2019-2020) of the Committee on Open Science at the Ministry for University and Research (MUR), in charge of drafting the National Plan Open Science.

She actively collaborates with ICDI – Italian Computer and Data Infrastructure Competence center on Open Science, EOSC and FAIR data, organizing the Open Science café and collaborating with the editorial board of open-science.it.

She is the delegate of OPERAS, the Research Infrastructure for Open Science in the Social Sciences and the Humanities, in the EOSC Association, where she is a member of the Task Force Researchers Engagement and Adoption.

Since 2017, she has been a partner in 8 EU-funded projects.

She has been part of the European Open Science network since many years, attending national and international conferences, and writing and lecturing on Open Access and Open Science. She never stopped learning and attends training courses and workshops.

She takes part as invited expert in several EU Workshops on Open Access and Open Science. She coordinated (2019-2021) the CO-OPERAS Implementation Network in GO FAIR and represents Italy in the OPERAS research infrastructure Executive Assembly. She serves in several Scientific Committees (international OAI-CERN workshop on Innovation in Scholarly Communication, Open Science Fair 2021, national GARR conference 2020-2021, ELPUB 2019-2021); she is a member of the Advisory Board of Open Knowledge Maps and Qeios, and of the Horizon2020 projects Polifonia and HERMES. She served as one of the Italian National Open Access Desk-NOADs for OpenAIRE. She edits since 2010 the web portal OA@UniTO, www.aa.unito.it.

Her family: a husband and three kids. She was so lucky to share her life with Luna, a lovely Golden Retriever (2014-2021). In March 2023 she adopted Nala, Luna's daughter, when her human mum passed away.

She also loves taking pictures; please feel free to reuse her CC-BY photos from Flickr.
